

LINDBERGH LAW INVOLVED WEYERHAEUSER CASE; 'G-NER' BELIEVED CLOSING IN ON FUGITIVE MAN

BRADLEY SOUGHT FOR $2,000 FRAUD ON HOTEL IN N. Y.

Fugitive Bond Head Induced New York Manager To Sell Stocks Allegedly Stolen From Defunct Atlanta Company.

MONEY OBTAINED BY CLEVER RUSE

Funds Paid Out to Bradley, Using Assumed Name, on April 30, Hotel Records Show.

Benjamin B. Bradley, fugitive president of the defunct American Bond & Share Corporation, who disappeared from Atlanta while affairs of that company and its affiliates were under investigation of the Department of Justice and the federal grand jury, defrauded a hotel manager in New York out of $2,000 six weeks after he left Atlanta, according to a warning sent all hotels by the National Hotel Protective Association.

Bradley disappeared from Atlanta on March 18 and, according to the hotel report, on April 30 defrauded the New York hotel manager.

Bradley, the report states, had securities belonging to customers of the American Bond & Share Corporation. Unable to sell these in person, he dared not appear at any broker's office with the purported securities, he induced the hotel manager to sell $2,000 worth of the stocks for him. He explained he could not appear at the broker's office to sell them himself because he was going out of the city for a few days and said he had called at the office but failed to find the manager in, so left a note.

A few days later he called at the hotel, without registering, ingratiated himself anew with the manager by his knowledge of a former assistant manager who had died and induced the manager to cash out of hotel funds, the broker's check for the stock which had been sold and which had been delivered to the manager but was payable to the name at that time assumed by Bradley.

Late in May Bradley, on reliable information, was reported to have been seen in Buenos Aires and it is, of course, possible he left for the Argentine after taking the $2,000 from the New York hotel.

No verification of the Buenos Aires report, however, has yet been received.

The report from the hotel protective association then gives a complete description of Bradley, warns all hotels to watch for him, states that he is under mail fraud indictment here in connection with the exposure and collapse of the American Bond & Share and its affiliates and asks any who see him or have knowledge of his whereabouts to cause his immediate arrest and communicate with J. W. Cole, postoffice inspector in charge at Atlanta.

Pearl Buck, Divorced, Weds Ex-Mate Of Woman She Lived With in Reno

Strange Marital Triangle Culminates in Quick Court Anti-Climax.

RENO, Nev., June 11.—(AP)—Pearl Buck, the former missionary who became famous for her novels about China, won a divorce and a new husband in a strange marital triangle here today.

She divorced John L. Buck and then married Richard J. Walsh after her close friend, Mrs. Ruth A. Walsh, obtained a legal separation from the wealthy New York publisher.

Mrs. Buck and Walsh, partner in the company which recently published the novelist's trilogy, "House of Earth," were married by the Rev. R. C. Thompson, dean of men at the University of Nevada and ordained Baptist minister.

Dean Thompson said Mrs. Walsh had witnessed the ceremony. Other witnesses were Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Kolak, of Reno.

Immediately after the marriage, the newlyweds left by automobile on a honeymoon trip, presumably for California.

George B. Whiteley, who was attorney for both women, said Mrs. Walsh would leave by train for New York early tomorrow.

Mrs. Buck and Mrs. Walsh lived together in seclusion here the last six weeks to qualify for the uncontested divorce.

Both charged "extreme cruelty," but omitted all details.

Mrs. Buck was awarded her divorce at a 10-minute secret hearing before Judge Benjamin F. Currier.

Mrs. Walsh, stepping aside in behalf of her friend, was parted from her husband of 26 years at a similar trial before Judge Thomas F. Moran.

Mrs. Buck won the Pulitzer prize with "The Good Earth." Walsh published some of her other works.

Mrs. Buck, becoming the center of fundamentalist controversy in the Presbyterian church, gave up her connections with missionary work in 1933. Experiences of her life in China provided background for various of her stories.

She was married to John Lossing Buck, of La Grangeville, N. Y., May 30, 1917. They have two children, Carol, 15, and Janice, 10, whose future custody has been fixed in a secret agreement.

The Walshes were married Sept. 26, 1908. They have a minor daughter, Elizabeth, 17. They also settled custody of the daughter in an agreement dated May 6, 1935.

NEW BLAST AT AAA IS LINDER'S REPLY TO U.S. ULTIMATUM

Farm Head Flays Federal Agencies; Editorials Barred From Bulletin by '31 Appropriations Act.

A fresh blast at the AAA was commissioner of Agriculture Tom Linder's answer yesterday to Postoffice Department threats to silence his "political" utterances in the Market Bulletin, Georgia's official farm publication.

This week's issue of the Bulletin came off the press and went to the postoffice for mailing. It carried an editorial signed by Linder and headed "Net result of processing taxes in Georgia."

During the administration of Governor Richard B. Russell Jr. and when Governor Talmadge was commissioner of agriculture, the state legislature passed an appropriations bill setting up $25,000 to finance the Market Bulletin and provided in the same act "that nothing except Market Bulletin quotations and bona fide listings of market products offered for sale shall be published in the Market Bulletin."

Editorial Comment Barred.

The act of 1931 provided further that "if at any time the Market Bulletin is used for printing and publishing any matter, whether editorial or otherwise, save and except strictly advertisements for sale or exchange for the farmers of the state or farm products, the governor is hereby authorized and directed to refuse to sign any warrant for the payment of the publication or circulation of said Market Bulletin and same shall thereupon and thereafter cease to be published or circulated."

However, the appropriations bill enacted in 1933 by the first legislature after Talmadge became governor did not include these provisions and the 1933 act is in force now.

Linder flays NRA, AAA.

In a copy of the Market Bulletin, Commissioner Linder wrote:

"The NRA is a contrivance for robbing the producers of raw materials. This is particularly the farmer. The AAA is a contrivance to make the farmer think that he is not being robbed."

And in another section he said, "I am sure that the farmer and his children have been led white to feed red corn to a few and to pay the expenses of an army of federal agents through application of processing and related taxes."

Linder said the federal government was "too big to do a little."

SENATE APPROVES HOLDING UNIT BAN BY 56-TO-32 VOTE

Measure To Abolish 'Unnecessary' Companies in Utility Set-Ups Goes to House for Action.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—(AP)—Impelled by President Roosevelt's personal backing, legislation to abolish "unnecessary" public utility holding companies was swept through the senate today by a 56-to-32 vote.

Hotly debated to the end, final approval was given only after a single vote blocked a move by Senator Dietrich, democrat, Illinois, to carve out of the Wheeler-Rayburn bill machinery empowering the securities commission to dissolve or reorganize by 1942 all public utility holding companies it found contrary to "public policy."

The 45-to-44 vote rejecting this amendment after Senator Wheeler, democrat, Montana, had read a penciled note from President Roosevelt holding such a change "contrary" to his recommendations, foretold a stiff battle over the same provision in the house.

There, a similar bill by Chairman Rayburn, democrat, Texas, was locked in the interstate commerce committee, still undergoing scrutiny by subcommittees. Leaders said its date of reaching the house floor was indefinite.

Amendment Accepted.

Just before passage, the senate accepted an amendment by Borah, republican, Idaho, to increase the drastic force of the bill by directing the Securities Commission to prevent more than one holding company being imposed upon an operating company.

In a division, almost as close as that on Dietrich's motion, it defeated 45 to 43 an amendment by Senator Lowman, democrat, Connecticut, to deny the Securities Commission power to initiate dissolution proceedings against holding companies. His amendment would have enabled the commission to act only upon outside complaints.

On the passage ballot, 45 democrats were joined by 11 republicans. Against passage were 38 democrats and 14 republicans.

The major Dietrich amendment was defeated so hotly that such terms as "fraud," "chicanery," "suckers," and "thieves" clashed in the chamber. Scarcely a member was absent.

The preliminary show-down vote found a dozen members on the floor closely following the tally themselves in order to prepare themselves for any parliamentary moves possible prior to the final vote.

MAN HUNT SPREADS OVER WIDER AREA

Chief of Government Men Brands Reports of More Arrests in Case as 'Purely Fictional' Rumors.

SALT LAKE CITY, June 11.—(AP)—Federal "Lindbergh law" charges were invoked tonight against two prisoners and the scrum-marked fugitive, William Mahan, in the drive for complete solution of the $200,000 George Weyerhaeuser kidnaping.

The development came with most of the ransom accounted for.

Meanwhile, man hunters were believed closing in on Mahan, confident his capture would bring recovery of all but a fraction of the $200,000 ransom.

Thomas H. Tracy, Department of Justice special agent, filed the accusations against United States Commissioner H. G. Fitch at Tacoma, Wash., adding the threat of federal life terms to that of Washington state's untested statute providing death or life imprisonment for kidnappers.

He charged, Mahan, sought by officers armed for a finish fight, and Harmon M. Wiley and his wife, Margaret Wiley, held in Salt Lake City, had transported the 9-year-old timber heir across the Washington state line to Blanchard and Spirit Lake, Idaho.

Federal agents declined to comment on reports George and his father, J. P. Weyerhaeuser Jr., made a trip to Idaho today in an effort to identify Blanchard and Spirit Lake as points along the route from Tacoma to the grimy Spokane (Wash.) bungalow where he was held eight days.

Reported Arrests Denied.

In Washington, J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, described published reports of additional arrests as "purely fictional."

"All announcements in this case are being made from here," he said, "and our men have made only two arrests. I don't know, of course, what outside police may have done."

Prosecuting Attorney H. H. Johnston, of Tacoma, said the filing of federal kidnapping charges is "all right with me."

Other officials pointed out the death penalty could be asked under the "Lindbergh law" only in case the victim was kidnapped throughout the state. Here, the kidnapping was confined to the state of Washington.

The search for Mahan—32-year-old paroled robber implicated by two confessions, members of the kidnap gang here—ranged throughout the west and along the Canadian border. Hundreds joined in the chase.

Activity at Butte, Mont., indicated, however, that pursuers were confident the fugitive was covering in some out-of-the-way hiding place there, perhaps with one or more confederates.

Investigators made no secret of their conviction that Mahan is found some $50,000 of the $200,000 paid by Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Weyerhaeuser Jr. of Tacoma, Wash., for his return June 1 describing him as "safe and apparently well."

A court order for the transfer of the Wiley family from Salt Lake City to Tacoma failed to develop. It may be issued tomorrow.

Peace "fiends" and federal agents concentrated on the Mahan hunt.

EXTENSION OF NRA DELAYED BY SNAG

Administration Leaders Recess Senate To Prevent Adoption of Rider.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—(AP)—Senate action to extend a shrunken portion of NRA was blocked at least temporarily today when administration leaders hurriedly recessed to prevent final adoption of a rider requiring confirmation of all federal officials making $4,000 or more a year.

Twice during the day democratic leaders, apprehensive of the fast-approaching expiration of the Recovery Act Sunday night, sought to push extension resolution through, but both times they ran into trouble.

This resolution was revised from the original in which it passed the house, April 1, 1935, but its proponents.

TELEPHONE RATES ORDERED REDUCED

Long Distance Tolls To Be Slashed July 1, Board Rules.

Cheaper long distance telephone rates of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph service in Georgia will become effective on July 1.

Reductions ranging from 5 to 25 cents on calls were ordered yesterday by the public service commission.

Low night rates also were moved up an hour on a half, from 8:30 to 7 p. m., through elimination of the "evening" rate which applied from 7 to 8:30 o'clock at night.

Person-to-person rates are in effect at all hours.

In ordering reductions the commission said old rates were "unjust, unreasonable and excessive and not conducive to the proper development of the use" of the long distance service.

Jud P. Wilhoit, commission chairman, said it puts Georgia "on a parity" with other states.

Reductions Ordered.

The following reductions were ordered:

Person-to-person calls, 5 cents on 56 miles to 25 cents on 256 miles; station-to-station in day, 5 cents on 56 miles to 25 cents on 256 miles; station-to-station at night, 5 to 10 cents.

Company officials said they could not estimate new revenue losses resulting from the order. Abolition of the "evening" rates was in conformity with similar action over the nation, they said.

Station-to-station rates, which are cheaper than person-to-person calls, have a day rate schedule under the new order of 4:30 a. m. to 7 p. m. and night schedule of 7 p. m. to 4:30 a. m.

New Tariffs Held Fair.

Commenting on the order, the commission said new tariffs "are just, fair and reasonable, and commensurate with the value of the service."

The new rate schedule is based entirely on airline mileage distances. For station-to-station calls it is 10 cents from one to 12 miles; 15 cents from 12 to 25 miles.

REPUBLICANS MAP FARM AREA CREED

'Grass Roots' Bloc Gives Tacit Approval to AAA Fundamentals at Meet.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 11.—(AP)—Armed for the fight with a unanimously approved "republican creed," some 8,000 hopeful members of the grand old party left for their homes in 10 prairie states tonight, enthusiastic over their chances to regain the midwest in 1936.

Without comment, the final session of their two-day "Grass Roots" gathering, in state fair grounds coliseum, adopted as the views of the corn belt branch of the party an anti-federalist creed, a comprehensive "declaration of principles" offered by the resolutions committee headed by Edward A. Hayes, of Decatur, Ill.

The pronouncement declared for a defense of American institutions, "a sound currency based on gold and definitely stabilized by congress and international in character," a balanced budget "by the honest method of bringing the expenses of the government within the limits of its income," and states' rights.

Pledge to Labor.

To labor was held out an approval of "the principle of collective bargaining," wages "consistent with American standards," the outlawing of child labor and protection for women workers. "Justice" was promised the veterans of all wars and the need for the establishment of old age and unemployment reserves was recognized.

Read from the flag-draped rostrum as the important as well as final business of the officially estimated 8,042 accredited delegates and alternates from Iowa, Illinois, Kansas, Oklahoma, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Indiana, Missouri, South Dakota and Nebraska, and accorded a vote free of a single dissent by about 8,000 persons gathered in the amphitheater at the closing session, the statement tacitly approved some fundamentals of the AAA.

6 ARRESTS SMASH HUGE LIQUOR 'RING'

Men Captured by U.S. Believed Responsible for 80,000 Gallons Annually

One of Atlanta's largest wholesale liquor rings, believed responsible for the distribution of more than 80,000 gallons of "corn" annually, has been broken up with the arrest of six men, it was announced yesterday by official of the Alcohol Tax Unit here.

The men under arrest, four whites and two negroes, were arraigned before United States Commissioner E. S. Griffith yesterday afternoon at Temporary House of Detention, and also at 282 Piedmont avenue, which is occupied by the Georgia Bottling and Supply Company, Mr. Tuttle said.

Headquarters of the ring has been under observation for nearly two months, during which period Alcohol Tax Unit agents have seized five automobiles owned by the outfit.

The men were arrested on warrants charging them with conspiracy to violate the internal revenue law.

This is the second alleged syndicate broken up by the A. T. U. in recent months. Some weeks ago the agents cracked down on a ring operating on the south side, taking 14 men into custody.

ANTI-SUTTON BLOC BEATEN BY BOARD

Major Setbacks Given Matthews Salary Hike and Penn Book Plans.

The anti-Sutton bloc of the Atlanta board of education yesterday afternoon met two serious reverses, and the charges of insubordination which W. W. Matthews, fourth ward commissioner and leader in the drive to limit the power of Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of schools, announced he would file, were lodged in the form of a mild "complaint."

Observers believed that the fight against the superintendent had collapsed, and that administration friends would continue to hold the required majority of the board.

The first major setback for anti-Suttonists came when Matthews filed a report of his committee to reorganize the board. Matthews' committee, which was organized on July 1, this year, and to put the board on record as favoring institution of another each September.

Ed S. Cook, third ward commissioner, who was not a member of the salary committee, offered a substitute to place one increase and one increase in the salary of the superintendent into effect as of September 1, with an additional proviso that if any additional funds become available or if any savings are effected in operation for the remainder of the year, that it shall be applied as far as it will go to make the increase effective as of June 1.

Plan Meets Approval.

Cook's plan met with such general approval that Matthews withdrew his recommendation. Adoption of the Cook program will mean that teachers and members of the instructional staff will draw total additional compensation ranging from $5,000 to $8,000 a month when it becomes applicable.

The second reverse for Sutton's bloc critics came when the Rev. H. J. Jack Penn, chairman of the textbook committee, filed a recommendation instructing the administration to purchase books carried on the state-adopted list for all basal subjects. After it had been attacked from several quarters, action was deferred until the July meeting of the board.

Matthews denied during the meeting that he had ever used the term "insubordination" to newsmen in connection with the Sutton fight.

CUTCLIFF GUILTY ON TWO CHARGES

'Lottery King' Convicted by Fulton Jury After Hour's Debate.

Walter Cutliff, Atlanta "lottery king," was found guilty in Fulton criminal court yesterday on charges of speeding and operating a lottery after a five-man jury had debated the case for an hour. Judge Jesse M. Wood will pronounce sentence this morning.

The maximum penalty is a fine of $1,000 and 12 months on the chain gang on each case.

Cutliff is now facing a sentence of 12 months and a $1,000 fine for a conviction last year, the supreme court having upheld his conviction in Fulton criminal court. A motion for a rehearing is pending.

Cutliff's trial lasted the major part of the day, and was featured by several clashes between Solicitor John S. McClelland and Sam Hewlett, with J. O. Ewing, represented Cutliff. At one point Hewlett made a motion for a mistrial when County Policeman Woodrow Wilson volunteered a statement on the witness stand as to previous arrests of Floyd Dennis, alleged negro lieutenant of Cutliff, but the motion was overruled by Judge Wood.

Case Reopened.

After arguments were under way, the case was reopened and Cutliff recalled to the stand after McClelland had charged in reply to the defense claim that the automobile which was seized by county police in a wild chase April 8 was not owned by Cutliff, that if investigation were made it would be found that none of Cutliff's property was returned in his own name.

Testimony from the tax collector's office showed Cutliff had not made returns for 1933, 1934 and 1935. The defendant, recalled to the stand, said "he only knows" he was covering in some out-of-the-way hiding place there, perhaps with one or more confederates.

Investigators made no secret of their conviction that Mahan is found some $50,000 of the $200,000 paid by Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Weyerhaeuser Jr. of Tacoma, Wash., for his return June 1 describing him as "safe and apparently well."

Paraguay Holds Up Chaco Peace Treaty

BUENOS AIRES, June 11.—(AP)—Paraguay at the last minute tonight blocked the signing of a peace accord with Bolivia.

Luis Riquelme, foreign minister of Paraguay, said the signing, scheduled for 11 p. m., was postponed because "a simple armistice" is proposed, without guarantees, and it was necessary for him to consult his government.

The hitch came unexpectedly, as Paraguay Sunday had approved the accord a few hours after it was announced here. Crowds had celebrated the prospective peace tonight in Asuncion.

3 Kentucky Fugitives Taken in Surprise Coup

ASHLAND, Ky., June 11.—(AP)—James C. Morris, convicted bank robber, and two other desperadoes who escaped from the state reformatory at Frankfort May 12, were captured by police here late today.

Morris, who with two other fugitives terrorized the Blue Grass section of the state last night with three holdups in quick succession, was captured in a restaurant here with James Boyd Brown, 28, and Eller Robinson, 34, convicted murderers.

Four patrolmen took them by surprise as they sat at the restaurant counter eating and covered them with guns before they had time to draw their weapons.

Two patrolmen grabbed two of the fugitives and threw them to the floor and another patrolman struck Brown over the head with a pistol, knocking him out.

Police said one of the fugitives carried two pistols and the others had one each.

SAVANNAHANS FIND MASTODON'S BONES

Seven-Inch Tooth, Vertebrae Part Unearthed by FERA Workers.

SAVANNAH, Ga., June 11.—(AP)—The fossilized bones uncovered here several weeks ago by FERA workers while digging a drainage ditch in the Sackville section have been positively identified as those of a mastodon, and State Geologist R. W. Smith will arrive next week to superintend excavations in an effort to find more of the remains of the historic animal, precursor of the elephant.

A complete tooth, seven and a half by three and a half inches, and a portion of the vertebrae, about eight inches in diameter, were sent to Mr. Smith several days ago.

The tooth and vertebrae were brought in by Dewey Jordan and Charles Hatfield, general foreman on the FERA drainage project.

The beer question will not be submitted on the official ballot, but it is planned to provide special tickets and boxes.

In the event a majority is polled against beer, licenses for its sale will be revoked by the county. Three candidates already have announced for the post on the commission. They are Leon F. GAINESVILLE, Fla., June 11.—(AP)—A two-day shipping holiday during which transportation of watermelons out of Florida and Georgia will be prohibited was ordered here today by the industry's control committee. The group set the period from 3 p. m. Thursday to 3 a. m. Saturday.

Manager Tlad Hucklebee said loadings of melons in the southeast are in excess of demands. Early crops in Florida and Georgia have induced heavy shipments, he said, and cold weather in the north has held up the demand.

GROWERS OF TOBACCO WILL VOTE ON CONTROL

Production and Marketing Will Be Discussed at Meeting Set for Tifton.

ATHENS, Ga., June 11.—(AP)—Plans are being made here for a referendum to be conducted this month to determine whether growers of flue-cured tobacco favor a production adjustment program to follow the present control plan, which expires with the 1935 crop. Growers in North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia and Florida also will vote.

All share-croppers, renters and landowners who are actually engaged in production of tobacco in 1935 will be eligible to vote, regardless of whether they signed production adjustment contracts.

The ballots will carry the question: "Are you in favor of a tobacco production program to follow the one which expires with the 1935 crop year?"

Ballots will be distributed to growers when acreage compliance is checked. In some areas, ballots will be mailed.

The ballots may be signed and returned to the county agent's office any time prior to June 20, 1935. Unmarked ballots will be accepted June 29, the final voting day, if deposited at the polling place or county agent's office.

OCALA, Fla., June 11.—(AP)—Walter F. Cochran, executive vice president of the Atlantic Gulf Canal association, said here today there was "no concern among counties through which the proposed cross-state ship canal would pass, either as to the possible damage to agriculture or to the water supply."

Cochran's statement followed a meeting of representatives of the six counties through which the canal would run to discuss options on right-of-way.

He said there was no concern principally "due to the fact the people in these counties have witnessed, first hand, a thorough study of these questions by the United States government for the last three years, and at a cost of $340,000."

WASHINGTON, June 11.—(AP)—Tobacco and turpentine were added by the house agriculture committee today to the marketing agreement section of the amendment bill pressed by the administration to guard the farm adjustment law from constitutional challenges.

Stiff Taxes To Spread U. S. Wealth Viewed by Solons as Possibility

House Democratic Leaders Declare High Inheritance and Gift Levies Will Be Enacted If Asked by President Roosevelt.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—(AP)—Prompt passage of legislation intended by its advocates to spread wealth through stiff inheritance and gift taxes was forecast by house democratic leaders today in the event President Roosevelt should ask such levies.

Their statements were made to reporters after a check disclosed a big majority of house ways and means committee members, who are charged with originating all tax bills, would go along on such a proposal.

"A tax of that kind would, to my mind, be very beneficial," said Representative Boland, of Pennsylvania, the democratic whip. "I think it would pass the house without any trouble."

Speaker Byrns remarked that he believed an inheritance tax program on a "reasonable" basis would meet a "sound reception" in the house. He contended that inheritance and gift taxes must be taxed at virtually the same rates to keep holders of huge fortunes from giving away their money before death.

Another who said house approval would be "certain" was Representative Sabath, of Illinois, chairman of the unofficial democratic steering committee.

"But," Sabath added, "if such a bill does come along I hope it will not only tax inheritances and gifts but also increase the taxes on bigger income brackets and tax chain stores."

2 NOTED PREACHERS HAVE 'REUNION' HERE

By LOUIE D. NEWTON,
Pastor Druid Hills Baptist Church.

"Smith meets Smith—England embraces Canada—and all of this happens in Atlanta!" exclaimed Gipsy Smith yesterday noon as he greeted Charles George Smith, of Montreal, Canada, in his suite at the Piedmont hotel.

Dr. Charles George Smith, distinguished Baptist minister of Montreal, was passing through Atlanta en route to Rome, where he is the principal speaker for the next fortnight at the Baptist Training Union encampment of Georgia, meeting on the campus of Shorter College. Dr. Smith will return to Atlanta on his way to preach at the Druid Hills Baptist church Sunday night, June 22.

"I had rather have that handclasp of yours, dear Gipsy, than a thousand dollars," declared Charles Smith as he chuckled and returned the pleasantries of the distinguished preacher from England. "To see you again, hear your voice, and feel the glow of your great faith and hope and love, is enough to justify one traveling very far, I can assure you."

"Yes," said Gipsy, "it is more than England meets Canada—more than Smith meets Smith—it is I would say, brother meeting brother and friend blessing friend. And say, Charles, you have come to a great community. I can tell you, my dear, this city of Atlanta has completely won my heart. I have been here before, but this time I have come to feel the heart of these people as never before. I shall never forget this visit to Atlanta."

On Keeping Fit at 75.
"By the way, Gipsy, how do you keep so fit at 75?" inquired Dr. Smith, of Canada. "Would you mind, if I ask you?"

"Hard work, my boy; plenty of hard work—that is, I love, and, perhaps, I should tell these Atlanta friends that it was right here in this Piedmont hotel some 20-odd years ago that I undertook a simple little morning exercise which I have never since failed to follow. It was here in Atlanta that a man told me about the stunt of touching your toes 20 times every morning when you get out of bed as a sort of start for the day."

"At first I found it rather difficult, but now I find it great fun every morning to touch my toes 20 times before jumping under the shower. You see I was about 50 when I started this stunt. I wish I had started it when I was five."

"And I make a point of walking as much as I can. You see, we still walk in England. You people in America ride everywhere, and that's all very good, but you must not forget to walk if you would keep young and happy."

Brilliant Conversationalists.
At lunch with these distinguished Smiths, Edwin Preston and I greatly enjoyed their brilliant review of British events, present and past. Charles Smith is about as versatile in conversation as any man I have ever known, and he found in the Gipsy ready running mate. They were as much at home discussing statesman as clergymen, and their knowledge of men and matters in every realm fairly astounded us as we listened.

Horses, dogs, food, novels, poetry, royalty, bishops, cathedrals, economics, politics, literature, education, philosophy, religion—these and many other themes came readily and vividly into the foreground as these British preachers talked and ate.

All of which reminds me to wish that Americans might find time for the fine art of conversation. Perhaps one would be allowed to imply merely the lack of time rather than the requisite knowledge of what is happening and why it happens. Anyway, I am glad I was present when Smith met Smith and England once again embraced Canada—right here in Atlanta.

Gipsy Smith's Sunday afternoon service will be a men's meeting and all the downstairs section will be reserved for men only. At this meeting the High School Choral Society, under the direction of L. G. Nilson, will provide special music.

Special attention will be given to the youth of today at the young people's night service to be held Friday night at the usual hour.

INSTITUTE SPEAKER SCORES MUSSOLINI

Cordier Says Il Duce's Ambitions Weaken Peace Front.

Mussolini's baysian ambitions destroy or impair the recently developed Anglo-French-Italian solidarity and weaken the peace front. These are the words of Dr. W. W. Cordier, professor of history at the University of Chicago, who spoke at the annual meeting of the Southern Institute of International Relations, now in session at St. Luke's Episcopal church, last night.

Mr. Cordier told the audience that the severe depression in Europe had added to the natural tensions; that instead of drawing together, the nations had attempted to solve their problems by resorting to stringent economic self-sufficiency.

He said that the crux of European peace lay in the question, "What is equality?" for Germany. "Hitler's numerous demands for equality proceed from grounds of varying justification," he said, "but the extent to which Germany desires to be freed from the inequalities of the Versailles system, she secures the backing of neutral opinion, but the extent to which she desires to return to pre-war German greatness and military status, her demands will be opposed by the rest of the world."

The speaker, tonight will be Paul Harris Jr., secretary of the National Council for the Prevention of War. His subject will be, "Can America Keep the Peace?"

GEORGIAN'S NAMESAKE WAS "FULLER" HANGED

Mark Twain's remark, "reports of my death have been grossly exaggerated," was applicable yesterday to Albert C. Fuller, former Georgian, who was hanged yesterday.

Fuller, here visiting his mother, Mrs. O. W. Patton and other relatives, was kept busy denying he was the Albert C. Fuller, former Georgian, who was hanged yesterday in California for a hold-up murder. The news appeared in Georgia papers and many old friends of Atlanta's Albert C. Fuller were a bit confused when they saw him walking around in person, not a "phantom." He will return to California in 10 days. At present he is stopping at 905 Greenwood avenue, N. E.

SANFORD TO ASSUME DUAL ROLE ON JULY 1

Dr. S. V. Sanford, veteran University of Georgia educator, is to assume the dual role of chancellor of the university system and president of the university at Athens on July 1, it was announced at the offices of the board of regents yesterday.

Dr. Sanford was named successor to Chancellor Philip Welner, who has resigned, a few weeks ago and Dean Harmon Caldwell, of the Georgia law school, was elected president of the university. He will succeed President Sanford September 1.

During summer school sessions at the university, which open tomorrow, Dr. Sanford said he would remain as active president.

Courtroom "Conjured" Say Timid Witnesses

"Conjure powder" will not be tolerated in Fulton county courtrooms under a ruling by Judge Hugh M. Dorsey in superior court yesterday. Judge Dorsey administered a stern lecture to Artella Miles, mother of Mattie Spear, negro woman on trial for the murder of James Edwards, negro, who was shot to death April 20, after it had been reported the woman was spreading the magic powder about the courtroom to render witnesses powerless to testify.

When witnesses in the case were called into the courtroom to be sworn, nobody showed up. Bailiffs found the witnesses were huddled in the corridor and with difficulty persuaded them to go into the courtroom, which they said had been "conjured."

Whether the "conjure powder" has any effect on the verdict will be made known today when the case is concluded.

8 PERSONS INDICTED IN IRVING & CO. QUIZ

Charge of Operating a Gaming House Made Against Officials and Employees

Eight officials and former employees of Irvin and Company, investment securities house of Chicago, which formerly maintained a branch office here and which is now in receivership, were indicted yesterday by the Fulton grand jury on technical charges of operating a gaming house.

The indictment grew out of alleged bucket-shop operations of the company through which customers were induced to gamble upon the fluctuations of the New York stock market. It was shown that the bucket-shop operation was consummated through a system of partial payments for stocks supposed to be purchased, by which the customer could buy on margin.

It is charged that Irvin and Company never actually bought the stocks, telling the customer they held them as collateral for the balance due and that the transaction would be closed without any final payment, thus obviating any need of producing the stocks in question.

Walter E. Sims was appointed receiver for Georgia creditors of the company when the Atlanta office closed last December. Later the company went into bankruptcy at its headquarters in Chicago.

Solicitor-General John A. Boykin said yesterday the company had taken more than $130,000 from investors here and the four ships will put to sea for maneuvers en route to San Juan, Puerto Rico, arriving June 22.

Following a two-day stay in San Juan, the ships will proceed to St. Thomas, Virgin Islands, and then to the United States naval base at Guantanamo, Cuba. The unit will arrive at Charleston on July 5. The Tech unit has high hopes of retrieving the gunnery award this year, which they lost last year after having won for several consecutive years, officials said yesterday.

Several of those indicted yesterday were indicted several weeks ago by the federal grand jury at New Orleans following an investigation of illegal operation of a securities house there by the Federal Securities and Exchange Commission.

EMORY U. TO OPEN SUMMER SESSION

Registration Begins Today and Classes Will Start Tomorrow Morning.

With the largest summer faculty and the most extensive offering of special courses in the university's history, the Emory University summer session will open with registration today. Classes will begin tomorrow.

Courses are being offered this summer in every department except medicine and library science, according to Professor J. G. Stipe, registrar. In addition to the regular courses taught by the 52 members of the faculty, there will be special courses in education, French, and fine arts under the direction of 11 visiting specialists in these fields.

Dr. Philip W. L. Cox, professor of secondary education at New York University, heads a staff of eight visiting professors of education. Hugh Hodgson, Atlanta teacher and concert artist, will offer courses in appreciation of the opera and in Wagnerian music drama, while Dr. Charles Rochedien, of Vanderbilt University, will head the staff of the "Maison Francaise," designed to promote a speaking knowledge of the French language.

A special feature of the summer program will be concerts by Mr. Hodgson and his pupils each Thursday night in Glenn Memorial auditorium. The first concert will be given at 8:15 o'clock tomorrow night. Admission is free.

LONG TERMS URGED

Camp Suggests Stiff Terms for Third Offenders.

Longer prison sentences for third offenders was urged yesterday by United States District Attorney Lawrence S. Camp, in an address before the Citizens Club. Mr. Camp pointed out that a fourth of the 1,700 persons convicted in the federal court here since February 1, 1934, were "repeaters."

Federal statutes should be revised so that it would be mandatory to impose longer sentences upon persons convicted a third time, the United States attorney said. There have been 530 "repeaters" tried in the federal court here since February 1, 1934, and one of them had ten previous convictions on his record.

Mr. Camp blamed private citizens for the difficulties behind law enforcement. "The real difficulty is the apathy of the people of the country," he said, "their lack of interest in crime."

"People save their interest in criminals generally on their own personal loss, and if they have never suffered any direct loss they are not inclined to take an interest in law enforcement."

MRS. FRANK WORD DIES EN ROUTE TO HOSPITAL

Mrs. Frank Word, 70, of 208 Oxford place, N. E., died yesterday afternoon en route to Grady hospital, where she was being taken by two men in a private automobile after she was found ill at the corner of Lakeshore drive and McDonough avenue.

The men who brought her to Grady left without disclosing their names after giving other information concerning the woman to hospital attendants.

Mrs. Word had for many years been an active and devoted member of the Kirkwood Baptist church. She owned several pieces of real estate in that neighborhood. She is survived by four sons, Frank Word Jr., of Atlanta; M. K. Word, of Charlotte, N. C.; H. P. Word, of Hockessin, Ga.; and W. B. Word, of Atlanta, and one daughter, Mrs. A. E. Richmond, of Washington, D. C. Funeral arrangements will be announced by Harry G. Poole.

ALABAMA HOUSE VOTES LEVY ON CHAIN STORES

MONTGOMERY, Ala., June 11.—(P) The Alabama house of representatives as a committee of the whole, this afternoon adopted a tax on chain stores ranging from $1 to $250, with the maximum levy falling on stores in chains of more than 50 units.

The tax was introduced by Representative Waldrop, of Franklin, and was accepted in place of a more drastic amendment proposing a tax ranging from $1 to $500. The tax was written into the general revenue bill and faces possible further revision in the senate.

'Your Car's on My Foot,' He Objected, Politely

S. H. Jackson, of 152 1/2 Edgewood avenue, couldn't "leave the scene of an accident" yesterday afternoon even though he was the victim.

He was crossing the street at Edgewood avenue and Butler street when a car occupied by two unidentified men skidded into him. Jackson was struck by the car's bumper, but he continued to stand by the side of the car.

The driver was excited and a large crowd gathered. "If it's all the same to you," Jackson asked the driver, "would you mind backing your car off my foot?"

The driver backed the car and fled. Jackson was treated at Grady hospital for bruises of the right foot.

Seventy-six cadets, of which three are seniors, 34 juniors and 39 sophomores, will make the cruise, joining destroyers bearing the Yale and Harvard units at Norfolk and later, at Washington, the U. S. S. Schenck, on which will be the juniors a seniors, will take aboard the Northwestern and the Tech unit has high hopes of retrieving the gunnery award this year, which they lost last year after having won for several consecutive years, officials said yesterday.

SLIM CHANCE IS SEEN TO AVERT COAL STRIKE

Lewis Declines To Reveal If Walkout Orders Are Already Issued.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—(P) Only a slim chance of averting a soft coal strike next Monday was seen by coal men here tonight after a survey of the legislative situation.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, declined repeatedly to answer when asked if orders already issued for a walk-out June 17 might be withdrawn.

In responsible circles it was suggested that President Roosevelt's intervention might keep the mines going, but thus far there was no sign that he intended to intervene.

Labor chiefs have asserted that immediate enactment of the Guffey coal bill, intended to set up a "little NRA" for the industry, also might stop the United Mine Workers' threatened "action," but here again the congressional action made this unlikely.

The day's principal developments: (1) The Pittsburgh Coal Company, an interest of the wealthy Mellon family and one of the largest coal producers in the country, withdrew its support from the Guffey bill, J. D. A. Morrow, president of the company, said company counsel believe the measure unconstitutional.

(2) The committee against the Guffey bill, representing southern and western producers, announced it would challenge the measure's constitutionality in court "when, as and if the bill or any revision of it is passed by congress."

(3) The national conference of bituminous coal operators (favoring the Guffey bill) approved its legislative committee's agreement with the United Mine Workers to seek an amendment to limit the measure to four years; to back the provision for federal purchase of marginal coal land as a reserve; and to delay for 18 months the tax on the operators to pay for this purchase.

JAPANESE WAITING FOR CHINESE TO ACT

Nipponese Leaders Say Situation Somewhat Eased But Not Settled.

By the Associated Press.

Japan's war machine, having bent the Chinese government to its will, in north China, today was waiting for China to carry out completely the army's demands affecting Hopei province.

Execution of the demands, non-Japanese observers agreed, would add the rich northern province definitely to Japan's sphere of influence in Asia, and army leaders were said to be determined to maintain their "strong" attitude until China arranged everything to their liking.

Major General Kenji Doihara, the army's mysterious political manipulator, who reportedly prepared the ground for the seizure of Manchuria in 1931, conferred with Japanese army leaders at Utsunomiya and said the situation, "although it has eased somewhat, is not dissolved."

While Chinese troops disliked by the Japanese flowed out of Hopei province and others more favorably regarded flowed in, General Ho Yin-ching, Chinese war minister, confirmed reports that the Kuomintang (national government party) had been ordered to liquidate its Hopei agencies. A London report that Yin-ching had resigned out of humiliation at China's surrender to Japan was not confirmed.

Meanwhile, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, national government leader, remained far to the west, chasing communists, despite Japanese urging that he return east to discuss definite settlement of the north China problem.

The Tokyo civil government, insisting the army more fully purge anti-Japanese elements in north China, was engaged in diplomatic controversy with Moscow over the slaying of a Soviet secretary on the disputed Manchoukuan-Siberian frontier.

Meeting with Sutton. He repeated yesterday, however, that he considered dissemination of a circular by the administrative department as a slap at the committee.

Falls File Charges.

"I have told Mr. Sutton that I did not appreciate it, and am saying so here, but I am not filing any charges," Matthews told the board. "This circular is the first piece of paper that I ever saw come from the administrative office without a single mark of identification on it. I never saw it until after teachers became concerned over it."

"I am glad Mr. Matthews has explained that he did not use the word 'insubordination,'" Sutton said in commenting on Matthews' remarks to the board. "The use of the term has done me great damage and it was unfair. The teachers asked for the information and we tried to get it for them. I don't think the figures carried in the circular were wrong."

"There were press reports that the circulars were distributed with pay checks. That is not true. We ran off about 125 of them and they went off mainly to principals of schools. The reports that the circulars said the cuts would be 34 per cent. That, too, is an error. It said 32 per cent."

Followed Earlier Recommendation.

The controversy over the distribution of the circular was the aftermath of an original recommendation of the Matthews group to redistribute about $140,000 in the instructional payroll account so that those in the lower brackets could get more money. It meant a larger cut for those in the higher brackets.

Matthews, fired by the circular, which he said was not a true reflection of the cuts in the higher brackets, which would be mandatory if the program were placed into effect, announced after a special meeting of the committee Saturday afternoon that he would file charges of insubordination Monday night, and Constitution reports were predicated on his announcements.

Adoption of the Cook program means that the salary cuts for school employees will continue unchanged and will be from 4 to 30 per cent.

During the salary discussion, George W. Powell, thirteen ward commissioner, moved that a rising vote of thanks be given school teachers for their service, and it was passed unanimously.

Other Action Taken.

Among other major actions of the board were the following:

1. Heard Sutton recommend a revision of school curriculum.

2. Approved purchase of 6,100 tons of coal for next winter's consumption for $23,311.

3. Raised the pay for elementary supply teachers from $28.8 a day net to $4 a day net.

BERNARD SMITH'S BODY FOUND AT LAKE RABUN

Atlanta Businessman Drowned at North Georgia Resort Week Ago.

The body of Bernard Smith, Atlanta businessman who was drowned in Lake Rabun on June 5 was recovered from the lake at 7:30 o'clock last night in deep water near the scene of the tragedy. Paul Anglin, city fireman and truck driver at Fire Station No. 11, reported the discovery.

After being viewed by the coroner the body was brought back to Atlanta in an ambulance of A. C. Hemperly & Sons. The death was pronounced an accidental drowning.

Mr. Smith had been a partner with Dr. Paul D. Selman in the operation of the Peachtree Pharmacy for the last three years and was widely known here. His wife is a druggist at the Crawford Long hospital.

Mr. Smith and his wife had gone for a two weeks' vacation at the popular northeast Georgia resort and had been there several days when the tragedy occurred. They were occupying a summer home of Mrs. Ed Brooks, his sister, at the lake.

Mr. Smith, who was described as a weak swimmer, secured a canoe which had been stored by his sister at a boat house about three miles below the cottage and started to paddle to the residence.

Several hours later the canoe was found capsized by H. L. Corley, of Hapeville, and his niece, Miss Helen Cochrane, who were motor boating at the time. Mr. Smith's hat was found floating nearby. A large searching party worked without result for a number of days after the accident.

Mr. Smith was a graduate of Georgia Tech, where he studied engineering, and later was graduated from Cornell University. He was an engineer at the plant of the Western Electric Company in New Jersey for 15 years before coming here to engage in business.

Funeral services will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at Hemperly's chapel with Dr. Ellis A. Fuller, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating. Interment will be in the College Park cemetery.

Dr. Paul Selman, Dr. Kimsey Foster, Robert O'Kelly, Julian Youmans, J. D. Basmore and E. M. Brooks will be pallbearers.

In addition to his wife he is survived by two brothers, Dr. Ruric Smith, of Tulsa, Okla., and Royce Smith, of Tulsa, Okla., and two sisters, Mrs. E. M. Brooks, of Atlanta, and Mrs. Bob Sharp, of Griffin.

The measure was presented by S. C. Nolan, ninth ward commissioner. It was referred to a committee of five, consisting of Mr. Nolan, Mr. J. B. Pendergrass, Mr. J. B. Pendergrass, Mr. J. B. Pendergrass, and Mr. J. B. Pendergrass.

Refused to approve a move by Mr. Nolan to bar use of school property for any gathering "inconsistent with the high ideals of Americanism," when a controversy arose as to who would decide on such matters.

S. Approves the 1935-36 school calendar providing that schools shall open officially for teaching September 8, establishing October 4 as a Southeastern Fair holiday, November 28-29 as "Thanksgiving holidays," closing of schools on December 20 for Christmas holidays and reopening January 6, setting April 16-20 as spring holidays and providing for closing of schools beginning May 21 with graduation exercises extending until June 5, 1936.

B. Heard a report that $3,555 persons have participated in the winter indoor recreational program conducted through the Atlanta schools by the recreation department of the Y.E.R.A., after the district of August Fischer.

The figures do not show the 43,000 white persons and the 18,000 negroes who were "touched" by it, the report set out.

Committee Praised.

Powell, Ernest Brewer, board president; Acting Mayor Ed. A. Gilliam and others praised the work of the salary adjustment committee despite its opposition to the board's refusal to adopt its recommendation.

"It is unfortunate that if a member disagrees with the administration staff of the schools, he becomes persona non grata," Powell said. "I sometimes think we forget old man taxpayer and fail to cut to effect economies in the system. It is unfortunate that this board is divided into Suttonites and anti-Suttonites. I wish we could forget that."

Ministers To Call on Talmadge To Enforce Dry Laws of Georgia

Committee of Baptist Conference Will Ask Governor To Fulfill Pledge Made Prior to Election of May 15.

Governor Talmadge will, it is expected, be called upon to fulfill the pledge of dry enforcement made by him prior to the May 15 election by the committee of the Georgia Baptist Ministers' Conference, it was learned yesterday.

The ministers at their regular meeting Monday in the First Baptist church, adopted a resolution authorizing the appointment of a permanent temperance committee, members of which will be announced next week by the Rev. Jesse N. Hendley, pastor of the Colonial Hills Baptist church and president of the Atlanta conference.

Naming of the committee was authorized in a motion presented by the Rev. S. F. Lowe, pastor of the Inman Baptist church, and seconded by the Rev. J. M. Hendley, pastor of the Colonial Hills Baptist church, is likewise stated to be a member of the committee.

Following the presentation of the resolution, it was recalled that prior to the May 15 election, Governor Talmadge expressed the opinion that a dry victory at the polls would be a mandate upon the officials of Georgia, from the highest to the lowest, to enforce the state dry act.

While the primary purpose of the temperance committee will be one of education, the opinion was expressed Governor Talmadge should be requested to fulfill what actually amounted to a pledge of enforcement in the event of a dry victory.

The temperance committee, following its appointment, will probably call upon Governor Talmadge at his office and request him to bring about strict enforcement of the prohibition law, it was said.

"The aim of the temperance committee will be to educate the people, and for that reason it is deemed advisable to make this a permanent organization instead of one of temporary nature," Dr. Newton said yesterday.

Governor Talmadge's statement regarding a dry victory as a mandate upon enforcement officers was recalled and it was suggested the temperance committee call upon him and ask him to fulfill his pledge. However, we do not propose to take upon ourselves any enforcement duties."

KIDNAPERS FACE FEDERAL CHARGES

the return of their nine-year-old son, will be found with him.

$116,000 Reported Found.

Findings of $116,000 of the money was made by the Atlanta office of J. Edgar Hoover, director of the department of justice bureau of investigation, with the recovery of $30,700 in Emigration Canyon near here.

Breaking under questioning as they had done in implicating Mahan, Waley and his wife told investigators here where the money would be found.

The Waleys, arrested Saturday after Waley's girl-wife was caught trying to pass a $5 bill from the ransom money, presumably were freed from the grip of questioning at the federal building here after they disclosed the hiding place of the $30,700.

Complaints charging violation of the federal extortion statutes were filed at Tacoma against Waley and the missing Mahan, in addition to the previous complaints, Hoover announced.

Death, Regardless of Sex.

Hoover made plain, however, that Waley and his wife, both of which hanging may be assessed for kidnapping—probably would prosecute the abduction gang.

ANNUAL CONVENTION OPENED BY SHRINERS

Roosevelt's Greetings Are Delivered by Attorney-General Cummings.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—(AP)—To the strains of stirring music, the Shriner today marched up historic Pennsylvania avenue to open their 61st annual convention and receive a message of encouragement from President Roosevelt.

The president's greeting, read by Attorney-General Cummings, praised the Shriners for their "devotion to the maintenance of hospitals for crippled children and to other enterprises of philanthropic endeavor."

Adding his own welcome, Cummings told the nobles that their interest in crippled children permitted him to mention an interest which the Department of justice has in children, too, spirit of justice has in children, too, although of a somewhat different character."

Menace Reminder.

"The recent kidnapping on the Pacific coast, which I rejoice to say is moving toward a complete and satisfactory solution," he said, "has brought us once again a tragic reminder of menace that threatens one of the tenderest relationships of life. Terrible as it is, the crime of kidnapping is but one of a series of crimes with which the federal government is seeking to deal."

The attorney-general said if congress granted his request to establish a Bureau of Crime Prevention, with the aid of two existing bureaus—Investigation and Prisons—he hoped "to integrate a well-rounded bureau to deal with the problem of crime in all of its principal aspects—first, cause and prevention; second, detection and apprehension; third, punishment and rehabilitation."

"When that structure is completed, I trust that its work will complement itself to your interest and support, for without the expression of a sustained and informed public opinion in this field, no permanent accomplishment is possible."

Hospital Work.

In speaking of their hospital work, Mr. Roosevelt told the visitors that "you do not thus carry, as mere duty, your share of the social load; you appreciate that the problems of life are too serious always to be shaken; and you practice the belief that the greatest of men is a healthful reinforcement to the things that make life sane and sound."

Addressing the delegates as "fellow nobles," Mr. Roosevelt is a member of the Albany temple—the executive told them that Washington is the "mecca" not only of the 100 temples of your organization, but of the more than 100,000 of our citizens whose interest, co-operation and loyalty are vital to the successful functioning of our American democracy."

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Nat. L. of Atlanta, a cousin of the bride. Miss Mary Pendergrass was bridesmaid and Marion Williams, Atlanta lawyer, was Sheats' best man.

Mrs. Sheats was formerly a teacher of English in Russell High school in East Point. She attended the LaGrange Female College and her husband is a graduate of Emory University. They will be at home at their residence on Ware street, East Point, following a short motor trip through Florida.

CUTCLIFF GUILTY ON TWO CHARGES

Cutcliff was arrested in the rear of the stadium also, but explained his presence there by testifying he had been to the residence of a Mr. Cobb to look at a saddle horse he had intended to purchase.

Although he has been convicted numerous times in Fulton county courts, Cutcliff has never served a chain gang sentence. Shortly before his release from the federal penitentiary more than a year ago he paid fines totaling $800, clearing his record in the state courts.

Atlanta Lead Parade At Capital Shrine Meet

WASHINGTON, June 11.—(AP)—A huge painting of "The Little White Horse" by John L. Saxe, of Springfield, Ga., was borne down Pennsylvania avenue today by Atlanta's Yeasab along the Shrine parade line.

President Roosevelt is a member of Cyprus temple, in Albany, N. Y., but Yeasab remained in Washington of Georgia's claim upon him because of his part-time residence there.

For the first time since 1928, Yeasab sent all of its uniformed organizations to the imperial council session. Potentate Hiram R. Romans led the temple in the parade, and his band, which was an original band lent gusto to the march.

At least $84,000 of the Weyerhaeuser ransom in his possession or hidden.

JUNE ROBLES WITNESS MYSTERIOUSLY BEATEN

TUCSON, Ariz., June 11.—(AP)—Goro Estrada, 11, a principal government witness in the June Robles kidnapping case, was beaten by an unidentified assailant in his home last night. It was disclosed here today.

A man entered the Estrada home, struck the boy on the head and escaped. The boy came a painful but not serious injury. County officers said neighbors of the Estrada family told them a strange man had been lurking in the neighborhood several days.

The boy, a student at the Menlo Park school, received the first ransom letter and delivered it to June's parents two hours after the child was abducted. The note was given him by a man who paid him 25 cents for its delivery.

During the past year the boy viewed several suspects. He repeatedly said he would be able to recognize the man who gave him the note.

URSCHTEL TELLS STORY OF KIDNAPING AGAIN.

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 11.—(AP)—Charles F. Urschel, wealthy oil operator, told the story of his abduction in July, 1933, for $200,000 ransom in 30 minutes, testimony at the kidnap conspiracy trial of Attorneys Ben B. Laska and James C. Mathers late today.

He had presented the account four times before the witness stand at other hearings, defying death threats of a kidnap band headed by the steely-eyed, taciturn "Doc" Barker. Urschel took the stand after Laska, who with Mathers is charged with accepting ransom money for the unsuccessful defense of the gangster, leaped to his feet to enter a blanket objection to the whole kidnap testimony. He was overruled.

"One may become a part of a conspiracy without knowing it," commented Federal Judge Edgar S. Vaughn, "if it can be shown that person had knowledge of the conspiracy and had an ultimate part in its execution."

BONDS ARE CALLED Securities Will Be Retired for Lower Interest Issue.

NEW YORK, June 11.—(AP)—The 12 federal land banks today called for retirement on July 1, $260,000,000 of their 4 1/2 per cent bonds. These securities, variously callable in 1933, 1934 and 1935, were due in 1933, 1934 and 1935.

In connection with the redemption, W. I. Myers, governor of the Farm Credit Administration, made the statement:

"The retirement of the callable bonds of the federal land banks and the issuance of new consolidated bonds bearing a lower rate of interest is in keeping with the policy of the federal land banks and the Farm Credit Administration to make long-term first farm mortgage funds available to farmers at rates as low as the investment market will warrant."

Mother, be oh so careful when baby is running off his bowels, and correct this ailment immediately. Watch baby's feeding and be careful of your own diet, because improper feeding is the most frequent cause of diarrhea, or loose bowels. TEETHINA has been successfully used for many years to correct diarrhea due to improper feeding. It gently moves poisonous waste from the little stomach without irritation. TEETHINA is also recommended for temporary constipation, and colic due to sour stomach. It is sold by druggists, has no opiate, and costs 30 cents per dozen powders.

HOTEL "HOLDUP MAN" BELIEVED TO BE MAHAN

BUTTE, Mont., June 11.—(AP)—A fresh trail of William Mahan, Weyerhaeuser kidnap suspect, was followed by squads of police tonight after he was reported to have been driven by a hunter to a remote hotel holdup at Dillon, 75 miles southwest of here.

Department of Justice agents and police covered the entire countryside west of here after E. E. Andrus, hotel keeper at Dillon, disclosed a man they believed to be Mahan came into their place last night and asked for money.

They said they believed he intended to hold them up but fled when several persons entered the lobby. Andrus said his visitor closely resembled pictures of Mahan.

'Grass Roots' Republicans
Looking for Party's Body,
He Asserts.

ELCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo., June 11.—(AP)—James Roosevelt, son of the president, departed from a prepared address here today to charge the republican party in a "grass roots" convention at Springfield, Ill., looking for the body.

Young Roosevelt ridiculed the conference of "grass roots" republicans which today was concluded.

"A root is a thing underground," he smiled at his audience, gathered here for a state-wide rally to turn over the earth to find something, but the republican party is dead and buried and they can only find the body."

"Dead men cannot resurrect a dead party," Roosevelt said. "They are trying to resurrect themselves by hiding under the constitution and are seeking to raise a false issue, a straw man which they may then blow down," young Roosevelt continued.

"In doing this they show they still are as middleheaded as they ever."

part, "that no economic advantage of agriculture this far attained shall be surrendered. The farmer is entitled to a fair and proportionate part of the national income and to receive a fair price for the products of his farm in the domestic markets. We endorse the enactment of such legislation, approved by the farmers themselves, as will accomplish such purposes. We endorse the statement of Governor Lowden that, so long as we have a protective tariff for the benefit of industry, we should give to agriculture corresponding benefits for that portion of the products of the soil which goes into domestic consumption."

Security Issue.

National security, it was stated, must start with agriculture. The machinery of federal land banks, it was said, should be used to refinance farm mortgage debts at low rates of interest. Stabilization of the farm market was regarded as the major step in the "elimination of depressions, and the stabilization of all business."

Thus the conclusion headed the counsel of Frank O. Lowden, elder statesman of the party, who came out of virtual retirement to deliver the principal address. He declined to state whether he advocated the equalization fee or some debenture plan.

The resolutions committee encountered most of its difficulties in fashioning the agrarian stand, in view of the recent wheat land vote in overwhelming favor of retention of the AAA setup.

The policies were volunteered as a "means of ending the depression" and the national party was given full option on them for future platform use.

Fatal New Ear Disease Is Bared;
Ache Mistaken for Meningitis

Infection of Petrous Bone Finally Penetrates Into Brain,
American Medical Association
Gathering Told.

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE.
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 11.

(AP)—A fatal new ear disease, and a complete cure for it—an "earache" which bursts in the eye and has been mistaken for meningitis in the past—was described at the American Medical Association's scientific exhibition today.

The ear trouble is officially called a "new disease entity," which means that it is a complete, separate disease by itself like pneumonia or tuberculosis. It was discovered by Samuel J. Kopecky, M. D., Henry K. Taylor, M. D., and Ralph Almour, M. D., of the Beth Israel hospital, New York city.

The trouble is infection of the petrous bone.

This structure lies forward of the mastoid bone, and deeper inside the head. It underlies the interior of the ear and partly supports some of the organs of hearing.

This bone is porous. The source of infection in its channels is assumed to be streptococci, which are carried there directly through the blood.

If this infection is not checked, it penetrates deeply into the ear, and finally from there directly into the brain. In the brain it causes death, by meningitis, or inflammation of the brain linings.

Once in the brain it is too late to save life. It can be stopped and cured by operation. But it was never operated on because its existence was unknown.

Dr. Kopecky and associates have identified its signs sufficiently to detect 32 cases with aid of X-rays. Of these they cured 26 completely. Five others were caught too late and died of meningitis. One other died of brain abscess.

The symptoms of the ear disease include pain in the eye, dizziness, facial palsy, irritability and listlessness.

The discovery of a new method of photographing the brain by X-rays was shown by Herbert Schoenfeld, M. D., Claude Moore, M. D., and Walter Freeman, M. D., of George Washington University.

through an ever-widening distribution of property and rigid enforcement of all laws, including those directed against trusts, were other principles espoused.

Continued protection of farm and home ownership and provision for the breaking down of restrictions on world commerce such as quotas and exchange restrictions.

Accomplishments Listed.

Sponsors of the "Grass Roots" meeting, brought here to draw inspiration from the many shrines to Abraham Lincoln, first republican president, assessed its principal accomplishments as follows:

A unification of many G. O. P. factions in a common purpose.

A definite invitation to members of the democratic party out of sympathy with the New Deal to join an anti-Roosevelt movement under the G. O. P. standard and the prediction of Lowden that "hundreds of thousands of patriotic democrats will rally to our banner."

Formation of a committee to hold the Grass Roots states in a bloc until the national convention.

Forecasts of a republican triumph next year, such as that set forth in a telegram from National Chairman Henry P. Fletcher, read and applauded in the coliseum today. It said:

"The Grass Roots rally marks the beginning of an aggressive fight that will culminate in a republican victory in 1936."

200 Gallons of Corn
Too Much for Lizzie

A load of Georgia corn liquor was too much for Lizzie yesterday night. In fact, the load broke Lizzie's rear axle as she attempted to negotiate a corner near the Bell street viaduct.

Patrolman Tom Glover saw Lizzie stagger under her load and then sit down, as it were, and he hurried to investigate as Lizzie's driver fled from the scene. Lizzie had "aboard" nearly 200 one-gallon cans of corn—and they were all full.

RESERVE BANKS GIVEN
LOAN PAY-OFF TIME

WASHINGTON, June 11.—(AP)—Speeding to meet a June 16 deadline, congress today adopted and sent to the White House a joint resolution giving officers of federal reserve member banks another three years from that date in which to pay off outstanding personal loans from their own institutions.

Without the extension, scores of borrowers would face heavy fines and jail sentences. So would the leading banks.

INVESTORS TO FEEL
UTILITY BILL EFFECTS

Wall Street Worried Over
Almost Certain Curbing of Holding Companies.

NEW YORK, June 11.—(UP)—Wall street tonight looked apprehensively upon the passage of the Wheeler-Rayburn utility bill by the senate.

Hard-pressed utilities stocks had been firm during day, indicating hopes of last-minute modification of the bill. The amendment, introduced by Senator William H. Dieterich, of Illinois, eliminating abolishing of holding companies, was not defeated until after the close of the market.

Utility experts predicted if the bill becomes law, as they now expect, the first burden will fall upon investors in the security holding companies. Obviously, it was pointed out, the full value of the portfolios of these companies cannot be realized in forced liquidation, and the resultant losses must fall upon security holders.

The second burden, Wall street believed, would fall upon the operating companies which have been receiving the benefits of centralized financing, and which, if the bill becomes law, must fall back upon local financing.

This utility men said, would impair the growth and efficiency of utility service.

The bill's immediate effect was considered debatable in view of the announced determination of utility leaders to challenge its constitutionality.

PHYSICIAN HONORED
Dr. J. R. Garner Elected
Railway Surgeons' Officer.

Dr. J. R. Garner, of Atlanta, nationally known railroad surgeon, yesterday morning was elected chairman of the committee of direction of the medical and surgical section of the Association of American Railroad Surgeons, Dr. Garner, chief surgeon of the Atlanta and West Point railroad since March, 1920, was named at the fifteenth annual convention in Atlantic City, N. J.

He is the first southerner to be named to this office. He is chief surgeon of the Georgia Railroad, and the Western Railway of Alabama, and is on the staff of the Piedmont hospital here.

Dr. Garner has also served as president of the Association of Railroad Surgeons, the American Association of Railroad Surgeons, and of the Southern Association of Railroad Surgeons. During the World War Dr. Garner entered the medical corps of the United States army. He returned to Atlanta and became chief surgeon of the railroad with which he is now connected.

For nine years Dr. Garner was chairman of the committee on occupational diseases and hazards, where in he accomplished much to raise the standard of physical fitness of railroad employees throughout the land. In 1933 he was elected second vice chairman of the medical and surgical section, and at the 1934 meeting was elected first vice chairman.

BELL PARK STABBING IS CHARGED TO NEGRO

Charles Pittard, 23, Duluth lawyer, was stabbed last night as he was leaving Ponce de Leon park after attending the ball game, police reported.

A negro who gave the name of Norman Park, 3890 Ponce de Leon avenue, was arrested and charged with drunk and disorderly conduct and stabbing another. Paschal was captured by J. B. Walker, a Decatur policeman, who chased the negro to Ponce de Leon and Boulevard. Patrolman Leo Nahlik arrested him. The stabbing resulted from an argument which developed after the negro accused Pittard of pushing him.

Legal Birth Control Data Favored
By Federation of Women's Clubs

National Body, Meeting in Detroit, Approves Dissemination of Scientific Information To Married Couples or Those Betrothed.

DETROIT, June 11.—(UP)—By an overwhelming vote of 493 to 17, delegates to the General Federation of Women's Clubs convention today approved a resolution placing the dissemination of scientific birth control information on record as a favorability on any individual.

Brief but acrid debate preceded the resolution to a vote. The controversy centered particularly on dissemination of birth control information to persons on relief.

"This resolution is neither political nor religious, nor does it place any responsibility on any individual," argued Mrs. S. Blair Luckie, of Chester, Pa., its sponsor.

"It is granted that contraceptive information is taught medical students. It is given in maternal centers. This information is in violation of the penal code when carried by public carriers. All we are asking is really an amendment to the penal code to make it legal for doctors to secure this information and extend it without violation of the penal code."

Mrs. Luckie said that 14 of the state federations and 148 individual clubs had endorsed the measure.

The resolution, affirming the federation's belief that the mental and physical health and vigor of the country demands that legislation "for the dissemination of scientifically regulated birth control information" be enacted, was referred to the delegates at Masonic Temple when debate appeared to be getting out of hand.

Dr. Josephine L. Pearce, of Lima, Ohio, defeated candidate for the presidency of the federation, was one of the strong supporters of the measure.

"If the government intends to control those families which are on relief, why can't they permit us to say something about the size of those families?" she asked.

A New York college student, Frances Dodge, proposed an amendment which would restrict the dissemination of birth control information to married couples.

"We in college know that this information can be gotten by the unmarried and by those having no intention of marriage, so we suggest an amendment to this resolution asking that it be restricted either to married people or those married and those intending to marry," she urged.

The last two proposals before the convention—that empowering a study of the proposed constitutional amendment granting District of Columbia residents the vote, and the measure advocating nation-wide fingerprinting for the protection of "every citizen"—were passed unanimously.

thing" when asked how the 125,000 weekly copies of the paper would be circulated if denied 11-2-cent per pound mailing privileges in the future. The United States Postoffice Department delivered to Linder Monday an ultimatum to conform the Bulletin to postal regulations, else low rate mailing rights would be revoked.

If classed as a political organ the paper would cost about $425 weekly instead of $50, to mail.

Quotes Postal Law.

"The federal postoffice law says that publications of State Departments of Agriculture can carry any matter that fulfills the purpose of the state law creating the department," Linder continued.

"So long as the Market Bulletin doesn't violate the state law, creating the Department of Agriculture, it is no concern of the federal government."

Citing from Section 5-107 of the 1933 Georgia code, Linder said he was authorized to "report, in a manner as is hereinbefore set forth, upon any matter or subject that he may deem of interest to the agriculture of this state."

He said powers and duties of the commissioner and of the Bureau of Markets, a division of the Farm Department, "are very broad and sweeping."

In his editorial Linder said Georgia farmers in two years had received benefits amounting to only $1,040,000, or 25 cents a year for each person on the farm.

or to the clerk's formal announcement.

Policy of Bill.

The policy of the bill outlined an intent to "eliminate" pyramided holding companies, those described by supporters of the bill as a "holding company, piled on a holding company, piled on a holding company, piled on an operating utility."

To carry out that policy, Section 11 provided machinery for the securities Commission to trim nationwide holding companies to "regionally and geographically integrated" systems, sheared of control of all but one type of utility, and their activities confined to one section of the country.

Dieterich's amendments would have limited that authority simply to regulatory power to remove "unnecessary complexities which are detrimental to the interests of investors, consumers and the general public."

Few spoke to support his position other than himself, but the roll call brought 29 democrats and 15 republicans to his aid. Opposing were 35 democrats, 8 republicans, 1 progressive and 1 farmer-laborer.

"A vote for the Dieterich amendment is a vote to kill the bill," Senator Wheeler shouted as the clock moved toward the show-down hour. Further, he added, it is "a vote for the lower lobbyists in the galleries."

In vain Dieterich argued that Wheeler's intent was to impose government control on all utilities in the country.

"This bill," the Illinoisan declared, "instead of being a regulatory measure, is instead of correcting evils of the holding company system, is an effort toward public control of all the utilities in the United States."

He added to that an assertion that it was not "in the executive mind to destroy those holding companies that serve a useful purpose."

BREAK O'DAY!

EN ROUTE TO NEW YORK FOR BAER-BRADDOCK FIGHT, June 11.—While the story of Cinderella and her experiences with late parties and the glass slipper are among my fondest reading memories, it is next to impossible to envision James Braddock as a successful male Cinderella.

In other words, the Jersey boy who was on the FERA relief roles a year ago, does not figure to be the next champion of the world when he and Max Baer are done with one another at the Long Island bowl Thursday evening.

Some of our better fight critics who have been on the scene where both Baer and Braddock have trained for this world's championship fight assert the Jersey boy has filled out on a diet of steak and potatoes, which was impossible when he was training on hash and beans. Also that he has gained confidence and has developed, through the use of sparring partners and a general training system which he never before enjoyed, a real fighting form.

They also state that Max Baer is a fearful sort of curmudgeon and that it would be a very great blessing indeed were Jersey Jim Braddock to tear his ears loose from their moorings and otherwise do him great bodily harm.

This last idea constitutes most of Jim Braddock's support. The boys so earnestly desire to see someone administer a sound and punishing beating to Max Baer's grinning face that they have hoped themselves to the point of believing it may happen.

And, of course, it may. If Jim Braddock can drive his gloved fist against Max Baer's jaw hard enough he will knock

GIANTS SUFFER DOUBLE DEFEAT FOR FIRST TIME

Reds Give Leaders First Twin Setback of Season, 4-1, 3-1.

NEW YORK, June 11.—(AP)—For the first time this year, the New York Giants lost both ends of a double-header today when they fell before the Cincinnati Reds, 4 to 1, in the opening contest, and 3 to 1 in the second game.

After Tony Freitas had set the longest leaders down with seven scattered blows in the first game while the Reds were handling Clyde Clantonman his second defeat of the season, Leroy Hermann, making his first big league start, limited the Giants to five hits in the nightcap. The Reds picked up their runs singly in the first game, the last coming in the eighth when Ernie Lombardi found one of the offerings of Al Smith, who had relieved Clantonman in the seventh, for a home run. The visitors took the lead in the second and went out in front again in the fifth after the Giants had tied the score in the fourth on a walk to Mel Ott. Hank Leiber's single, a sacrifice and Dick Bartell's long fly.

All of the Reds' runs in the second came in the fifth, when Al Comorosky landed on one of Fred Fitzsimmons' pitches for a circuit drive with two mates on bases. Fitz was lifted for a pinch hitter in the fifth and Allyn Stout and Leon Chagnon combined to blank the winners through the remainder of the game. The lone Giant run was the result of a triple by Bill Terry and Ott's fly in the fourth. Only one other Giant got as far as third after that. Joe Moore extended his batting streak to 10 straight games in the first but was stopped by Hermann in the second.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., June 11.—(AP)—Seeking his seventh title in the last nine years, Bryan M. (Bitty) Grant, of Atlanta, ranking southern tennis star and tenth on the national list, today advanced a step in defense of his crown by turning back his initial opponent, Pollard Parsons, of Nashville, 6-0, 6-0, in second-round play of the Golden Jubilee tournament at the Southern Lawn Tennis Association.

The diminutive Atlanta court star, seeded No. 1, remained an oddsmoney favorite to win the tournament, a title which he has won for the last two years.

Bell, lanky representative from New York, seeded No. 2, and ranked seventh nationally, coasted to victory in his opening match against Carl Smalley, of Austin, Texas, 6-1, 6-4. In the second round, scheduled for Wednesday, Grant is paired against Bruce Baxter, Austin, Texas, who nosed out O. K. Dunlap, of Brownsville, Tenn., 6-4, 7-5, while Bell faces Harry Terrell, of Birmingham, Ala., who progressed by eliminating John W. Stephens, of Anderson, S. C., 7-5, 6-4.

J. Gilbert Hall, East Orange, N. J., seeded No. 3, obliterated two opponents in his initial efforts and moved into the fourth round. He turned aside Frank Richer, New York city, 6-4, 6-2, and then registered a 6-3 triumph over Frank Corrigan, of Atlanta.

Spectators were thrilled with their first spectacular match of the annual competition when Burtz Boulware, Georgia Tech entry, extended John McDiarmid, the fourth seeded star, to three close sets before he succumbed, 6-8, 6-3, 10-8. Previously McDiarmid had moved into the third round by conquering Jerry Whitson, Cookeville, Tenn., in a close battle, 6-0, 3-6, 6-1.

BRYAN WINS.

Robert Bitty Grant, of Chattanooga, ranked fifth in the tournament, paraded into the fourth round by conquering Barney Smith, Knoxville, in his initial competition, 6-2, 6-2, and then trimming Billy Beggs, Macon, Ga., 6-1, 6-3.

While Martin Buxby, seeded sixth, was idle because of an ankle sprained in an earlier match, young Hal Surfer, of Kansas City, seeded seventh, moved into the fourth round by defeating Leo Brady, of Austin, Texas, 6-2, 6-2. And Billy Reese, captain of the Georgia Tech tennis team, eliminated Guy Cheng, of China, member of the Chinese Davis cup team, 6-1, 6-0, to gain the fourth round.

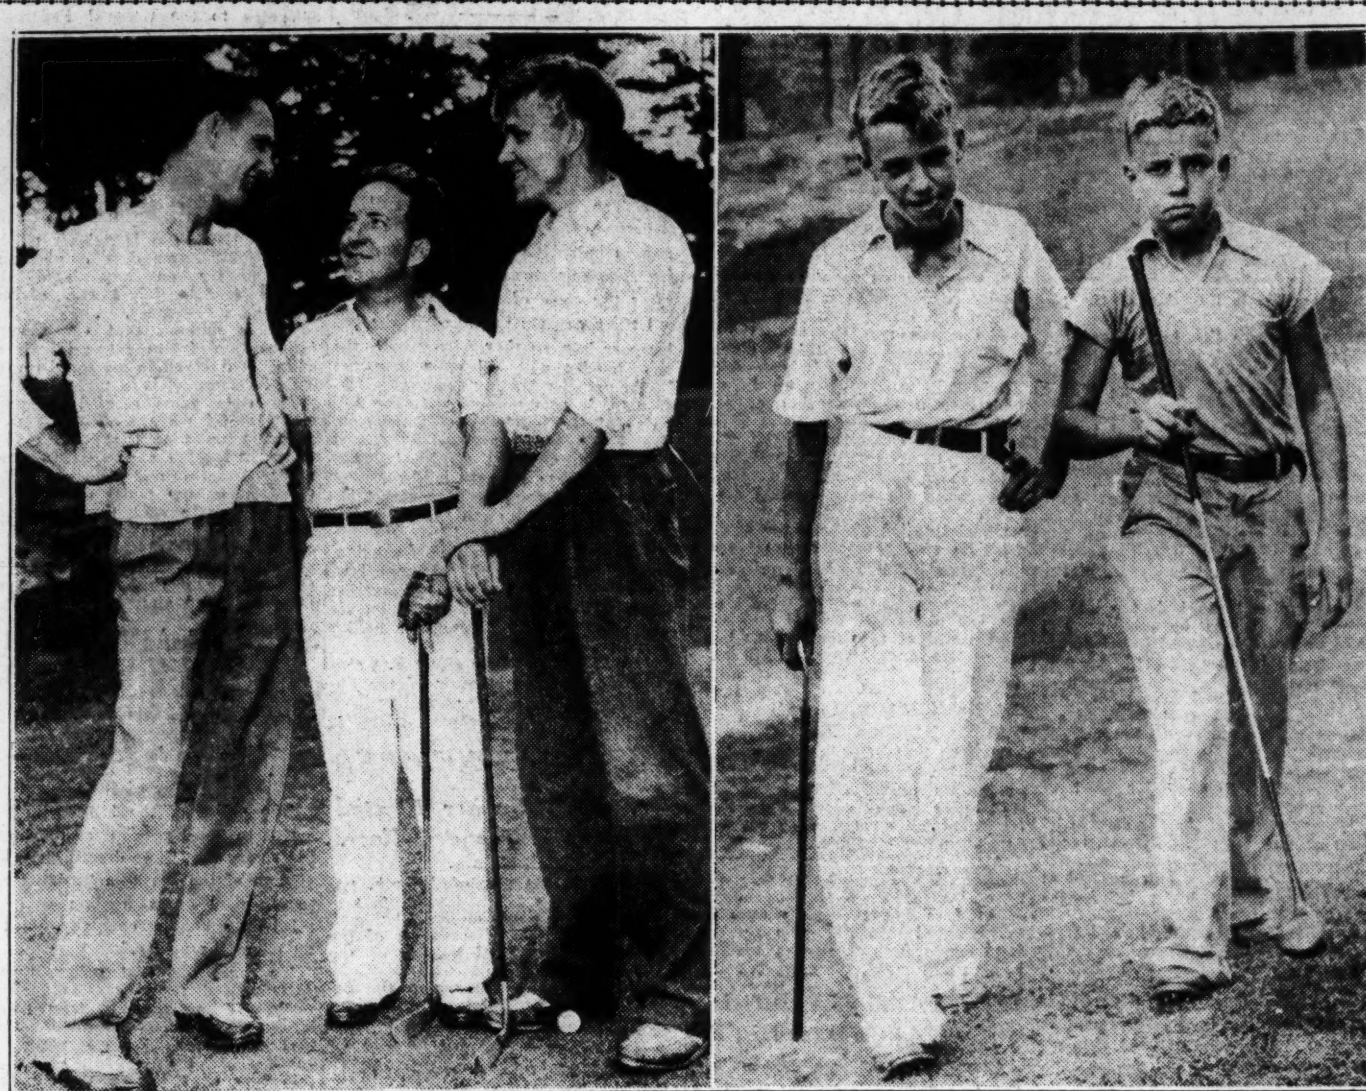

In a closely contested match Lewis D. Carson, captain of the Chinese cup team, emerged victorious over Ramon Potts Jr., of Memphis, former holder of the southern junior crown, by a count of 6-4, 6-3, and faces Hal Surfer in the next match. Surfer, another Chinese campaigner, was today and goes against Charles Hays, Palm Beach, Fla., in a third-round match tomorrow.

Tennessee To Play Mississippi Nov. 9

MEMPHIS, Tenn., June 11.—(UP)—Officials of the Universities of Tennessee and Mississippi gave formal notification today the football teams of the two schools will meet in Memphis next November 9. It will be the city's biggest intercollegiate gridiron contest in a decade.

Coches Ed Walker and Faculty Chairman William Henningsway, of Ole Miss, formally notified the Chamber of Commerce today the game will be played here. The chamber, sponsor of the move to bring the two teams together, announced plans to have for one of the largest crowds in history.

Here are two scenes taken during the second day's play in the annual city amateur golf championship being played at the beautiful Capital City Golf Club course. On the left, reading from left to right, snapped while discussing their golf are three "old-timers", Coach Bobby Dodd, of Tech; Roby Robinson, Atlanta newspaper champion, and Charlie Yates, national intercollegiate titleholder, named in that order. On the right are shown two up-and-coming stars—two Yateses, who are following along in their brother's footsteps. They are Dan and Allen. Note Allen's powerful driver.

Southern Outfielders Fail To Hit Stride

League's Leading Sluggers Way Below Usual Form; Crackers Well Down List.

By Jimmy Jones.

Some of those journalistic jeremiads on the Cracker outfield seem now to have been ill-timed, to say the least.

First, Manager Eddie Moore, who, after all it said and done, is the individual most concerned, comes out and announces that he is going along with his outfielders, despite the fact that not a one of them, Moore included, is hitting .300 at this stage.

Secondly, a check-up of the last league averages, published last Sunday, showed that the Cracker outfielders aren't so bad as painted and that only nine of the league's 24 regular fly hawks are out-hitting our four-man brigade of Moore, James, Harris and Oana.

On the other hand, there are just as many, including such stalwarts as Eddie Rose, of New Orleans; Joe Hutschman, of Memphis; and Art Rubie, of Birmingham, who were hitting far below the Cracker quartet at the last wholesale accounting.

WAY OFF FORM.

This survey proves that the majority of the league's outfielders have yet to hit their real strides and that, at present, they are lagging behind the infielders. Most of them, including the Atlanta crowd will improve.

Just for the sake of going how wise Eddie Moore has been in not jumping the gun and trading off one of his slumping sluggers simply because there was a great hue and cry in some quarters, here is a tabulation on the outfield averages around the league, good and bad:

All indications point to one of the largest southern zone shoots ever held. And the gentlemen from Mississippi will be among the toughest to reckon with on the firing line.

Collier, New Birmingham Pitcher, Hurls Steadily in Pinches.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 11.—(AP)—Orlin Collier, new Birmingham hurler, pitched steadily in the pinches today and the Barons defeated Chattanooga, 6 to 5, in the final of their four-game series. Collier was touched for nine hits but many of them were of the fluke variety.

The Barons scored a run in each of the last three innings to win their second victory of the series.

BOBBY DURHAM REGISTERS FIFTH WIN OF SEASON

Buster Gets Deciding Hit Off Henry; 11,000 Attend Game.

By Jimmy Jones.

While another of those big crowds roared a frenzied acclaim, the Crackers again met back the challenge of the Chickasaws in a blood and thunder battle last night, winning the third game of the series, 6-5, on the momentum of Captain Buster Hutschman's home run which went winging out through the darkness into the left-field stands off Jim Henry in the seventh inning.

It was tied up at 5-all at the end of the sixth, a tempestuous inning in which each team scored three runs and Henry, who had been batted out of the game, came back to relieve Ed Greer just in time to fall victim to Chatham's explosive lick in the next, getting credit for the loss.

The ball that Buster batted was a fast one that Henry put in the slot and the little shortstop climbed on it with plenty of leverage.

The crowd was the smallest night crowd of the season from a paid standpoint, being only 6,503, but there were 4,953 enthusiastic ladies there, making a total of 11,456. And what a noise they created as the score swung back and forth.

The roaring sixth also was featured by a warm dispute between Manager Eddie Moore and Umpire Rick Campbell behind the plate over a ball that Alex Hooks hit to right in that inning.

The ball was ruled foul and Moore put up his hottest protest of the season, but it was all right, since Ed Greer came back and punched a single to center to score a couple of runs.

CHICKS LEAD.

The Chicks showed out in front in the second inning when, with one out, Big Joe Hutschman came out of his slump with a home run inside the park, circling the bases just ahead of the ball and barely making it to the clubhouse. Joe isn't a fast man by any means, and the trip required a lot of puffing and blowing. Watwood jarred a maddening looking drive to center, but Oana made a good catch of the ball.

Benning doubled over third, but Powell rolled out, Durham to Hooks, ending the inning.

The Crackers might have scored in the first and second but for good fielding by the Chicks. Johnny Hill drove a long ball to left in the first, but Duke made a good running catch of it, and in the second Sheriff Dave Harris batted Hutschman up against the right field wall to take his high drive. Greer's speed was timed in time in the early innings, and Oana and Chatham were strikeout victims.

Durham even up with him in the fourth, whiffing Reese and Duke. Hutschman followed with a double, his second hit, went to third when Hooks missed Johnny Watwood's grounder to first, and then started home. Lipscomb recovered and made a good throw to Palmisano in plenty of time to tag Hutschman, but the catcher dropped the ball. Hutschman straggled, Watwood took third on the two misplays, but Benning fled to Oana.

CRACKERS TIE IT.

The Crackers came back and tied it up in their half of the fourth, getting two runs out of two hits. "Pinky" James, playing left field in Manager Moore's place, opened the inning with a single to right center and raced around to third when Watwood let the ball go through. Johnny Hill doubled to right to score him and then took third as Hooks was thrown out by Marquess Lipscomb. Hill to right brought in Hill as the crowd him out. Because Max Baer is no superman. He can be felled if hit often enough and hard enough.

John Grant Takes Lead in City Amateur Tourney With 150

There is the argument that Max Baer is in no shape at all and that he has traveled the primrose path with avidity and enthusiasm and that the man doesn't live who can do that and still travel a fast pace in the ring. Which is true enough. Max Baer has trained carelessly and is not in the condition which Braddock has achieved. Baer is a playboy whose daily doing supply gossip columns with news. Braddock is a kind and loving father and one who has never gone in for gay life. He has fought his way up from obscurity and poverty to the big money and the big chance. Sentiment is all with him.

So may we expect virtue and honest toil to succeed Thursday night?

Alas and alack! my amigos, I hardly think so. I believe the grinning and clown-like Max Baer will have him out of there in about 10 rounds. Or less.

BRADDOCK'S CHANCE.

Braddock has this one chance. If he can box, and he is a fair boxer, he will have a chance. I saw Max Baer beat Max Schmeling and Primo Carnera. Schmeling, as long as he boxed, was doing well.

But when he tried to come in and carry the fight he ran into those right hands which Max Baer throws with great skill and force. I say skill because when one throws a right hand it must be thrown swiftly and with force and therein lies the skill. Baer has a skillful right hand.

When the lumbering Carnera boxed him he managed to stand Baer off for a while. But when the fighting began it was all too bad. Baer began throwing those rights and the Long Island flats began to echo to the sound of 263 pounds of Italian beef as it clattered to the floor of the ring.

If they will stand up and trade punches with the Baer boy he becomes sudden death, speaking in the vernacular. He can pump those right hands in there and the mind begins to wander and the eyes become glassy. I still can see Max Schmeling, his trim body all red welts, his eyes glazed and his mouth open, hanging in the ropes after a setto with the Baer person. And I can see the fright in David Preem's eyes as he galloped about the ring, trying to avoid that sneering, leering form which was hurt him with blows to the body and jaw.

I think the Carnera fight was the most terrifically emotional scene I have ever seen. Here was Carnera, ponderous, tremendous, his gloved hands like pillows, his great torso and limbs looking like tree trunks. And the little, smooth body of Baer's moved in and there was a flash of white arm and a smack and Primo Carnera toppled and fell. He did that 11 times in all and to see 265 pounds of man come crashing down; to watch the cat-like Baer stalk his prey, sneering at him, mocking him—well, the veneer of civilization is pretty thin and I guess it will be always. But there was a sight to see in the realm of man-made fights.

BAER MUST BE SLOWER.

When Baer fought Schmeling Baer was fighting for good food and lots of suits of clothes and money enough to gratify all those daffy desires he has. And when he fought Carnera he was at his peak. He will never be that good again.

He will be slower Thursday night. He won't be as fast and he won't be as lethal with that right hand. But he should be good enough to beat Braddock.

In those two fights, which were his best, it was easy to follow his style. He walked in there and battered away for the first two or three rounds. And then coasted for three or four. He fights in spurts. And the theory seems to be that if Braddock can stand the champion off for four rounds he will then be able, because of superior condition, to box him the rest of the way.

It may be so. But unless Baer has skidded more than appears possible in one of his youthful years, there will be no staving him off. Braddock has never been a great fighter. His record would not indicate he has any license to be fighting for the championship of the world. But here he is and there are those who give him a chance.

But I'd say Baer. The human body, in its twenties, can soak up a lot of dissipation and no matter how much sleep Baer has lost or how much improper drinks and food he has had, he can't have lost it all this quickly. The reckoning for Maxwell Baer is coming. But I hardly think he will pay the bill Thursday night.

YOUNG BROWN PLACES SECOND WITH 151 SCORE

Youngsters Crowd Big Guns in Capital City Meet.

By Roy White.

John Grant Jr., of the Capital City Club, always a first flighter, stroked his way to medal honor Tuesday in the 36-hole qualifying round for the annual city amateur tournament of the Capital City course. Grant carded a consistent 75-75-150 to lead James (Kid) Brown, young high school star, who captured Tuesday with an undefeated city, state and southern prep championship, by 1 stroke. Brown carded a 77-74-151 for second place.

Stanley Holditch, young Tech freshman, who won the Columbus invitation last year, shared third place with Jack Cook, another member of Tech High's undefeated team, with 153 strokes each.

Ansley Park won its first team trophy in a city tournament with an aggregate of 619 strokes and it was due to the fine play of the two youngsters, Cook and Brown, that gave 153, and Dan Sage Jr., 160, were the other members of the winning team.

CAPITAL CITY SECOND.

Capital City, with Grant, Charlie and Dave Black and Alton Irbay making up the team, placed second at 621 with East Lake third, 652, and Druid Hills fourth, 704.

In his two rounds, Grant's putting was outstanding. He had only one hole in the two rounds and that was the eighth in the last 18 holes, where he took a 6 after being only a few yards off the green with his drive.

Hudson Jr., a former city champion, made the most sensational rally when he carded a 75 Tuesday, after an 85 on the opening day. John Owens, Atlanta's open champion, found plenty of trouble on the long course and lost 10 strokes to par on the first, second and third holes Tuesday. Owens was not the only high scorer as Brown's 74 Tuesday, 3 strokes over the qualifying 18-hole score of the qualifying.

MATCHES BEGIN AT 9.

First-round matches will open at 9 o'clock this morning with the second division teeing off first. The third division follows at 10:30 o'clock. The championship division starts at 2 o'clock.

Following today's play the winning and losing 16 players in each division will form flights and continue play Thursday.

Charles H. Bailey, the defending champion, plays Luke Barnes, to start the championship division. Bailey, a medalist, meets Billy Jones at 3:15. Tommy and Pete Barnes, brothers, all made the select circle, and a cousin, only a few strokes back in the second division.

Gene Dabbs and Dr. Harry Rogers, who qualified for the Monday and Tuesday play each other in the second division today as Scott Hudson Jr. and Tommy Barnes renew an old feud. Hudson, a former city amateur title several years ago on the East Lake course.

PSYCHIC PERHAPS.

Johnny Westwood, veteran Capital City player, asked the committee to pair him with Gene Gaillard, a former city champion.

Leaders Rally in Each Game; Ruffing and Tamulius Pitch.

ST. LOUIS, June 11.—(AP)—The New York Yankees added another win as they turned back the St. Louis Browns twice, 7 to 4 and 9 to 3, while the second place White Sox were breaking even.

In the first game they were forced to come from behind by Charlie Ruffing, who ran up his sixth victory of the year, hurled shutout ball. He hit five innings after letting the experienced aces to lead when he second frame and handed out three runs and a 2-6-2 but Jack Knott weakened in the seventh and in the eighth was taken out, Paul Andrews finishing the game.

The Browns also got away to a lead in the second game but Vito Tamulius, connecting with 11 hits off four St. Louis hurlers, chalked up his sixth victory of the season as compared to one of the St. Louis Browns, who were breaking even.

Time-Honored Customs Observed In Assembling Bridal Ensemble

By Sally Forth.

IN TRADITIONAL bride-like fashion, Cornelia Taylor has assembled her wedding ensemble for this afternoon to conform to the time-honored custom of wearing "something old, something new; something borrowed and something blue." Plus a good-luck symbol, her marriage to Trawick Stubbs, of Savannah, takes place at 5:30 o'clock at the Theological chapel at Emory University.

For the "something old," Cornelia will wear a gorgeous Brussels lace veil. It was bought many years ago in the old country by Mrs. Oscar Pappenhimer and is one of the most beautiful that has ever been offered to grace the crowning glory of an Atlanta bride. Marie Pappenhimer, you know, married Joe Taylor, brother of today's bride.

Then for "something new," she will have her satin slippers trimmed in orange blossoms. Her wedding dress is antique satin and is the "something borrowed" for the nuptial ensemble. It belongs to Mrs. Francis Parker, the former Winifred Orr. When the latter became the bride of Dr. Parker last summer, today's bride and bridegroom were attendants. Turn about is fair play, and with the positions reversed, Dr. and Mrs. Parker will both be attendants at this afternoon.

The "something blue" for Cornelia is interesting and nearest to her heart. Her fiancé has given her a beautiful pin made of five hearts, outlined with pearls and centered with an exquisite turquoise. It will be her only ornament.

Carrying out another bridal tradition of wearing or carrying a lucky piece, Cornelia will have a silver six-pence in the heel of her slipper. It was brought from England by a lifelong friend, Alice Ely McDonald.

AN ATLANTA woman just returned from Asheville tells Sally an amusing incident of her visit at Grove Park inn. It seems that the entire judiciary of the fourth federal circuit—the district and circuit judges of five states—gathered at the inn last week in conference with Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes.

On the opening night Sally's friend was playing bridge in the "big room" with a woman from New England, just arrived at the hotel, who did not know the personnel of the distinguished company around her. She heard the constant reiteration of "Judge This" and "Judge That." Finally, she remarked to her Georgia bridge partner, "Southerners are so quaint, the way they call every man 'judge'."

Mrs. Homer Cummings, wife of the attorney-general, was the ranking woman in the judicial group, and Sally's friend wondered what the New Englander would have thought if Mrs. Cummings had been addressed as "admiral." She could be, because the title had just been bestowed on her by Governor Ruby Laffoon, of Kentucky.

Mrs. Hughes, wife of the chief justice, was unable to come to Asheville, Sally was told, but in the judicial company of 75, the wives of a number of the judges, district attorneys and heads of bar associations were included. Sally's friend was included in the guests attending the tea given for the judiciary wives at Grove Park inn.

THE youthful contemporaries of Carrie Marshall Young, of Charlotte, N. C., will be delighted to hear of the good news of her anticipated arrival in Atlanta on Friday. She will visit her aunt, Mrs. Gillespie Sadler, and her cousin, Miss Ida Sadler, at their home on Thirteenth street.

Atlantans remember her from former visits here, and especially from her appearance as junior bridesmaid in the wedding of her cousin, Mary Sadler, to Nathaniel Bailey, of Griffin. Since then, of course, she has practically "grown up," for just last week she finished her junior year at Sweet Briar College.

Carrie Marshall is having a perfect whirl of good times this week, for she is one of the visiting belles attending the final

Things That Make Women More Beautiful

An Apricot Foundation Cream Made Especially for You Brunettes

By MIGNON.

Every woman should use a foundation cream of one kind or another, but you can't put a snowy white foundation cream on an olive-skinned beauty. Neither can you use a dark shade of foundation cream on a girl who has a peaches-and-cream skin. The trick has been to make these new creams, which are becoming more and more popular, in various colors to match the different skin tones.

One manufacturer has brought out a finishing cream that looks like apricot mousse. It is soft and whipped cream in consistency. That kind of cream is so easy to apply, because you can dip your fingers into it without getting too much, and apply it gently over the surface of your skin, as you should do. I suppose every woman applies finishing cream in the same way—a dab on the forehead, nose, each cheek and two on the neck. Then run the palms of the hands over the face, and neck gently, distributing the cream evenly and making sure that you haven't too much on.

Then comes the makeup—first cream rouge, then powder, then lipstick. Then take a piece of cotton and wipe the powder out of the eyebrows, first wetting the tiny wand with a mild skin tonic. Use any kind that you have if you are sure it is good.

I know a brunette who is so sold on this new finishing product that she says she is tied to it for the entire summer. If she gets any darker when the swimming season opens she is going to try to find the same thing in an even darker shade. The shade is called russet and is not for blondes.

The winners' essays will be submitted to the State Department together with winners from schools throughout the state in competition for a cash prize of $5.

COUNTY'S AID ASKED IN REGISTRATION LIST

Co-operation of Fulton county in establishing permanent registration for voters was requested in a letter received yesterday by Dr. C. R. Adams, chairman of the commission, from City Councilman Max M. Cuba. Dr. Adams replied that the matter will be taken up for discussion at the next regular meeting of the board, inasmuch as a study of the situation will require much detailed work.

Councilman Cuba's letter asks for information concerning any plan whereby the city can use the county registration list in all the city elections, making it possible for an Atlanta citizen to register once in the county.

Permanent registration is provided for in an act passed by the legislature at its recent session.

Shares Establish New High for Year in Second Successive Session.

Table with 2 columns: Index Name, Value. Includes entries like 30 Industrials, 20 Railroads, 10 Utilities.

By FRANK MAC MILLAN.

NEW YORK, June 11.—(AP)—The bull market today swept the bears aside and crossed the goal line to new high territory for 1935 for the second successive session.

Rail shares, lagging in early dealings when industrials were the leaders, came up to join the close to the head of the parade. Gains of major fractions to 2 points or more were common enough in both these divisions.

Utilities too, got ahead, but on a more conservative basis. Investors awaited the senate vote on the Dietrich amendment to the utility bill. Defeat of the amendment which its opponents charged would have emasculated the holding company abolition feature of the Wheeler-Rayburn bill was not announced until after the end of trading, and then by the narrow vote of 45 to 44.

Commodities were rather sluggish, and while little to mention a bullish government crop report, closing unchanged to 2.5 of a cent a bushel lower. Corn was even to 5.5 of a cent lower a bushel, but cotton overcame early declines in part on news of a bale higher to 15 cents down.

New High Ground.

The Associated Press average for 60 stocks, rising 7 of a point to 43.6, was accompanied by new high ground for the 20 industrials included in the compilation, 7 of a point to 30.5, and by the 10 utilities at 31.3, up 5 of a point. The 15 rails were up a point at 23.3, were still well below the year's best of 27.7. The grain, however, are within striking distance of the peak for 1934, at 61.4.

The bond market moved under the influence of equities, with rail and government bonds showing advances strong in a month and general firmness apparent elsewhere in the list.

Step Climbs Ahead.

The new and more hopeful attitude toward the carriers was attracting much attention in bond rooms, and was especially noted by the chart students. These theorists pointed out that the market appeared in a critical spot on the graphs, with the utilities and industrial averages on a down run, but that the rail shares if the accepted "green light" was to be flashed for a broad advance in coming months.

American Central Sugar gained a following for both its common and preferred issues again as a stockholder's meeting today ratified a plan for recapitalization. This eliminated accrued dividends on the preferred and provided for the payment of 6 percent senior stock issues which will be offered to present 7 percent holders on the basis of 1 6/10 shares for 3 points.
